October

Sunday, October 2nd 2016

Classroom Update:

Happy October!
We have a lot of things happening in the classroom during this spooktacular month! ☺

Religion: The first graders will be learning about the Great Commandment and the story of the Good Samaritan.

Literacy: The class will be learning all about digraphs (sh, ch, th, ph, ck). The students will have two spelling tests on digraphs this month. Also, the next reading log will be sent home on Monday, October 3rd. Encourage your student to read 20 minutes and color in a pumpkin!

Math: This month the students will be learning all about data, charts, and graphs. They will be taking surveys and analyzing the data the collect.

Science: Our first science unit starts this month! The first graders will be learning all about plants and their life cycles. We will be planting seeds and observing pumpkins.

Writing: This month will be all about nouns, adjectives, and verbs! Students will learn how these parts of speech can make their writing more descriptive.

Ms. Paulsen ☺

IMPORTANT DATES:

- Tuesday, October 4th
  Blessing of the Animals
- Friday, October 7th
  Grandparents/VIP Day
- October 17th & 18th
  Conferences

ASK YOUR CHILD...

...what pet or stuffed animal they are brining for the Blessing of the Animals on Tuesday!

THE BEST PART OF THE WEEK WAS...

The students sharing their writing with the class on Friday!

© Erin Wing